Senator McCreary Talks.

A correspondent asked Senator McCreary a few days ago if he wanted to say anything about the reference to himself made by Gov. Beckham in his recent speech at Frankfort, Ky. Senator McCreary said: "My statement shall be brief. I want peace and harmony and Democratic victory in Kentucky more than anyone else. I have never, by personal interviews, discussions or referred to the snap electoral primary, or to the Senatorial election, although I have been often requested to do so."

"I now depart from my custom to say that Gov. Beckham is mistaken in his reference to me in his recent speech. I had nothing whatever to do with the Senatorial race at Frankfort; have not been in Frankfort or talked with a Senator or Representative since the General Assembly convened, and have not received letters from but four members, one of whom is the Representative from my own county (Madison) and all of the four voted for Gov. Beckham as long as he was before the General Assembly."

"The people are tired of being talked to about the primary election of 1906. I believe they know all they wish to know on the subject, and I shall not discuss it at present. I only say I have tried to be a faithful and efficient United States Senator, and I have always been at my post of duty, and I have hoped to be honored with a second term as other Senators have so often been honored in Kentucky. But I was not elected, and I have put all matter connected with the contest for Senator behind me."

"I believe the success of the Democratic party is paramount to my success. I love Kentucky, and I love the Democratic party and with a heart full of gratitude for the honor conferred upon me in the past, I am ready in the approaching campaign to do as I did last year, when I made speeches for the Democratic ticket and as I have done in every campaign for nearly thirty years, devote whatever of ability or energy I possess to the triumph of Democratic principles and the success of the Democratic ticket."

Bourbon Circuit Court.

The only matter of interest that took place in Circuit Court Tuesday was in the case of the Paris School Board vs. City of Paris. Judge Stout overruled the demurrer of Mayor James M. O'Brien to the petition filed by the Board. The merits of the case will now be taken up by the Court and decided in the next few days.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Carlton Wells was called, and owing to the absence of an important witness for the prosecution the case was continued till Tuesday upon motion of Commonwealth's Attorney.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. C. F. Clay, on appeal from the judgment of the police court, was tried Wednesday, the jury returning a verdict fixing the fine at $20, the same amount imposed by the lower court.

On Wednesday afternoon Judge Stout received a letter from Mrs. A. P. Shropshire, of Centerville, asking for immediate trials upon the indictments returned against her by the grand jury. It will be remembered that Mrs. Shropshire was indicted on three counts, one for drawing a deadly weapon, one for pointing a deadly weapon and one for sending threatening letters through the mails. All of these coming from the recent trouble with her neighbor, G. L. Burbury.

The Court acted at once upon the request of Mrs. Shropshire and ordered bench warrants issued for the lady and set her trials for Tuesday next.

Mayor James M. O'Brien on yesterday filed answer for the city in the case of School Board vs. City of Paris.

Very interesting and able arguments were listened to in Court yesterday afternoon in the case of E. F. Spears & Sons, etc., vs. Bush Nelson. It is a suit asking damages for breach of contract. The plaintiffs buying a lot of grass seed from the defendant which was not delivered. The defendant alleges that the plaintiffs were an unlawful firm, buying seed to corner the market and to set their own price on same. The plaintiffs demurred to answer of defendant, and the arguments were on the demurrer. John T. Shelby, of Lexington, Ed. Jettett, of Winchester, and McMillan & Talbott, of Paris, represented the plaintiffs and Col. John R. Allen, of Lexington, and Judge Harmon Stitt, of this city, represented the defendant. The question will be further submitted to the court by briefs.
